Mayor Selmi Voices Confidence In Success of Inauguration Event Of the Italian Catholic Federation

After a closed session of the City Council, Tuesday evening of this week, it was announced that the Councilmen had voted a generous sum to the local branch of the Italian Catholic Federation toward the fund for the celebration of the Inauguration Festival, to be celebrated October 23 and 24 in this city. The amount, which was not exactly specified, will cover the cost of a float for the fiesta queen and her court.

Speaking to members of the I. C. F., gathered at the City Hall here, Mayor Paul Selmi said that he was confident of the success of the project.

"I know," he declared, "that the Inauguration Festival is one of the biggest things we may look forward to. Perhaps it will prove to be the biggest thing we will have to look back upon, once it has been consummated."

The mayor's note of optimism was echoed in speeches to the local unit by Councilmen Fahey and Cavagnaro.

Only a fragmentary sketch of the two day program has been drawn up to date: the crowning of the queen

COUNTY SCHOOL TRAFFIC UNITS WILL CONVENE

Squads Will Participate In Big Demonstration In Redwood City

School Traffic Patrol squads from public and parochial schools throughout San Mateo County will be assembled for a parade and review at Redwood City on Wednesday of next week. Hundreds of young soldiers of safety, who daily protect schoolmates from traffic dangers, will receive public recognition and acclaim for their work. The review is expected to provide an impressive mass demonstration of the progress made by the patrol movement in this county.

Arrangements for the San Mateo County review are in charge of Henry Hall, superintendent of schools of San Bruno, appointed chairman for the occasion by Miss Pansy Jewett Abbott, county superintendent of schools. Civic leaders are serving on a general committee with police and school authorities.

Patrol units will assemble at 10 a. m. in the area around the court house at Redwood City. They will parade around the court house and pass in front of a reviewing stand occupied by officials and civic leaders. Following the review the patrol squads will proceed to the Sequoia Theater, where a program arranged by Hal Honore, theater manager, and Acting Captain Otto Schram, of the California State Highway Patrol, will be presented.

Bert B. Meek, state director of public works during the C. C. Young administration and long a prominent figure in California politics, died at his Atherton home, Tuesday of this week, following an extended illness.

While his death was not entirely unexpected, it came as a shock to those who had known him in his varied career as engineer, farmer, banker, packer and executive vice president of Hearst Corporations.

He joined the Hearst organization in 1932.

The Spirit of California Press Is Unselfish Public Service

GOVERNOR MERRIAM'S PROCLAMATION

"The newspapers have been referred to as the backbone of American freedom.

"For a century and a half the publishers of our newspapers have been the guardians of the freedom of opinion of our people, the right of which is guaranteed to them under the first amendment to the constitution of the United States.

"The responsibilities of expressing public opinion in the local community, state and nation, have been borne with honor by the newspaper publishers. California may well regard with pride the inspiration and leadership which has been her heritage from her newspaper editors, dating back to the gold rush days of '49.

"As gatherers, disseminators and interpreters of the news of rural areas and cities, the state and nation, our newspapers wield a formidable and significant influence upon public opinion.

"In recognition of the faithful performance of their duty to the public they serve now, therefore, I, Frank F. Merriam, governor of California, do hereby proclaim the period beginning with the 4th day of October, one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven as 'Newspaper Week' within the limits of this commonwealth and urge all of our people to give consideration to the unswerving service given California by her newspapers."

HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS HEAR PRESIDENT TALK

Entertaining Speech Of Chief Executive At Dam Dedication Evokes Profound Interest

A radio address given by President Roosevelt on Tuesday of this week was enjoyed by the students of Jefferson Union High School.

The President was introduced by the Governor of Oregon, Charles H. Martin.

President Roosevelt's speech commemorated the completion of the Bonneville Dam, which he officially opened. He said in part: "If we had known as much twenty or thirty years ago as we do today, we could have prevented in great part the abandonment of thousands upon thousands of farms and prevented the migration of families into Washington, Oregon and Idaho." He stated that this could have been brought about by checking soil erosion and controlling forest fires.

The President concluded: "Instead of using our wealth for war armaments, we use our wealth on projects like this—the Bonneville Dam and the Grand Coulee Dam." The President then pressed the button which started the first generator.

At the close of the program Mr. James Ferguson, principal of the high school, stressed the value of informational assemblies in which the students were given a broader knowledge of the world in general.

Newspaper Week At Plant Of The Daly City Record

Among the features of local Newspaper Week observance will be the Open House maintained by the Daly City Record, Thursday and Friday of next week.

Many of our readers never yet have seen a newspaper plant in operation. The Linotype with its almost human action, still is one of the marvels of the mechanical age. Come in and see this machine as well as our presses in full operation either of these days next week.

Bring the children. They will find a trip through The Record plant educational as well as enjoyable.

Our plant is located at 3317 San Jose avenue, near Flournoy.

ILLNESS CAUSES LOCAL MAN TO SLASH THROAT

While Mrs. Agnes Lumsden of 225 Los Olivos avenue was absent from her home, doing some shopping, her husband, Harry Lumsden, who had been in ill health for some time and was in a depressed state of mind, committed suicide some time between 7:30 and 8 o'clock, Friday evening of last week.

Lumsden locked himself in the bathroom and slashed his throat.

Officers, called to the home, discovered the body, slumped down on the floor in a pool of congealed blood.

Deceased was a butcher who retired from active service some seven years ago. He was a native of Scotland. His widow is the only surviving relative.

NEW ARRIVALS AT TANFORAN RACE COURSE

Major Taylor String of Speedsters On Hand To Participate During Fall Season

The latest string to arrive at Tanforan is that of Major A. C. Taylor of Vancouver, B. C. Trainer Darrel Cannon brought the stakes performers Indian Broom, Special Agent, and Whichee, the high class runners Jargo, Red Ensign, Time Flight and seven two year olds.

The Taylor horses were rested up all summer at Santa Anita and may be expected to cut some figure in the running of features at tracks in the San Francisco sector. Indian Broom scored in the Marchbank Handicap in the spring of 1936, defeating Top Row and other good ones. Special Agent has the reputation of setting a sizzling pace, no matter in what company he is started. Right now he may be even a better horse than Indian Broom.

Trainer Cannon moved into the barn at Tanforan that the Taylor band has occupied each season at the San Bruno course. He found the racing strip in its usual tip-top condition with a cushion that is maintained at all times.

Fiesta May Have Permanent Home

Giving 100 per cent support to the proposal to "graduate" the San Mateo County Fiesta from the flower show class to the county fair division, leaders now plan purchase of the property north of Bay Meadows as a permanent site for the annual event and for a county auditorium.

The fiesta commission president said the property is "a natural" for such a purpose.

NOBODY SEEMS TO BE 'WISED UP' ON ORDINANCES

Great Deal Of Confusion Now Exists Regarding Building And Plumbing Laws

Judging from differences during discussions which frequently arise in city official circles, it appears that the entire structure of the Daly City ordinances is in need of compilation, revision and amendment.

Every now and then, at council meetings, dissimilarity of opinion are expressed as to the interpretation, application or sufficiency of this or that particular ordinance. This is owing in most part to the ambiguity of the language used in their construction.

Take for example:

City Ordinance No. 91, commonly referred to as the Building Ordinance and designated by its title as "An Ordinance regulating the construction, alteration and repair of buildings in the City of Daly City, California, and providing for the registration of master plumbers and prescribing the penalty for the violation of said ordinance," is so outmoded and couched in such ambiguous and misleading verbiage as to be almost unintelligible and mean-

GOOD BUSINESS CONTINUES HERE IN POLICE COURT

"Boys Will Be Boys" As They Gaily Speed Along Our City Thoroughfares

Walter Hartje of 201 Naples street, San Francisco, who was arrested on August 6 and charged with reckless driving with resulting injuries, appeared before Judge Wade H. Clay in police court, on August 13, and pleaded guilty. He was fined the sum of $100, or which $50 was suspended, and in default of payment the defendant was to be committed to the custody of the sheriff of the County of San Mateo to serve one day for every $2 of the fine, or 25 days in all. The defendant asked for time to pay his fine, which the judge granted. Hartje came into court several time thereafter, asking for further continuances, and these also were granted. Judge Clay, not wishing to impose any hardship on the young man, gave him until September 24 to bring in the money, with the understanding that if he failed to pay at that time he would be committed to the county jail to serve his time. Hartje appeared on September 24, ready to go to jail, evidently under the impression the the judge would still be lenient and allow him further time. While Hartje was waiting in the city jail here prior to being transferred to the county jail at Redwood City he evidently thought better about serving his time and came to the conclusion that he would either have to pay his fine or go to jail. He called up a friend with a request that he bring him the $50 with which to secure his release from custody.

Also arrested on a charge of reckless driving was Edward M. Paradis, who was fined $50. He paid part of the sum and was given to October 1 to secure the balance.

Other fines for the week totaled $40.

Walter Pettingill, arrested on a charge of disturbing the peace, pleaded not guilty. After hearing evidence, the court adjudged him to be guilty as charged and fined him $25, which was paid.

Otto Peterson was arrested for disturbing the peace and quiet of the neighborhood of the Villa Sanitarium. He pleaded not guilty on arraignment, but, after hearing the testimony of witnesses, the court found the defendant guilty. His sentence was postponed two weeks.

TEACHERS TOLD TO AVOID PROPAGANDA

Superintendent C. C. Hughes says that techers may comment on the "actual phases of the conflict at Shanghai, but should express no personal opinion for or against either side."

The meeting of Old Glory Post, Friday evening of last week, was well attended and a good time was reported. Twelve rounds of boxing by the boys of the C. Y. O. furnished the crowd with entertainment.

Nomination of officers was part of the business session and our good comrade, Alex Albertus, was nominated for the office of Commander. Lots of success for the ensuing year, Alex.

The V. F. W. has in progress a "Save a Life" campaign, and any one in or near Daly City can take a course in First Aid if they will contact the commander of Old Glory Post, providing applicant is over 17 years of age. The class must consist of 25 or more in order to have an instructor furnished from the Red Cross. This is an excellent opportunity for all to get first aid training. Save a life; it may be yours.

A large number of cooties attended the scratch at San Bruno, September 27, including visitors from Vallejo, Oakland, Emeryville and San Jose, to see Alta Mesa Pup Tent 22 take in a few new members, and to enjoy a real evening of fun.

All committees for the V. F. W. convention, to be held at San Jose, are being formed and every one has the real spirit that will make our convention a credit to the V. F. NEWSPAPERS ASSURE YOUR SAFETY IN BUYING!

Before there were newspapers, buying was a game of wits! Prices paid by the consumer were the result of bargaining with the seller. There was no standard of value and the ideal of service did not exist.

The merchant whose advertisement you see in this paper is honestly offering you honest value at an honest price. He is honest because he wants to be and honest because he has to be. Only the enterprise which intends to be fair can afford to expose itself publicly in its community.

Thousands of dollars of advertising revenue are refused annually by this newspaper because the propositions which they represent cannot be considered beneficial to your welfare.

In the advertisements in this newspaper you have a buying guide of known worth and reliability. Here merchants and manufacturers spread the news of their best. Here you can consider and compare. You can save yourself many hours of diligent search for merchandise which you desire to buy wisely.

Your newspaper is a vital part of your life and the life of your community. It brings you the current history of your time and safeguards the social order in which you live. Yet it costs you only a few pennies per day.

Stop and consider why you should appreciate it as the greatest single factor in your daily life.

Prize Exhibit Is On Display Here

"La Casa Teresita," the miniature garden planned and constructed by students of the Woodrow Wilson Elementary school and sent down by the Jefferson School District, won a second prize trophy at the San Mateo Floral Fiesta. Radiating the Fiesta theme of the early California Rancho, this garden was the only one among the scores exhibited which reflected the Spanish atmosphere.

The miniature population of "La Casa Teresita" took the form of the marimba band, the fandango dancers, the gardeners, the typical ox cart, and the senor and senora of the rancho.

Both the garden and the art exhibit are on display in the halls of the Woodrow Wilson Elementary school.

Out Of Town Visitors Are Struck By Auto

While traveling north on Mission street, near Westlake avenue, on the car tracks, an auto driven by Mattrup Jensen, superintendent of Mt. Olivet Cemetery, struck down four pedestrians who were waiting for a street car in the safety zone, Saturday evening of last week, at about 7 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. H. N. Pitt of 3827 Northwest Sixth street, Miami, Fla., and Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Collins of Elmira, N. Y., were treated at the Villa Sanitarium for injuries. Mrs. Collnis suffered a broken leg. The other three were less seriously injured.

JEFF MEN LOSE TO MISSION HIGH DEFEAT APTOS

Indians Make Fine Showing In Second Tourney Of Basketball Season

Jefferson's lightweight basketball teams, the tens and twenties, journeyed to Mission High School, last week, for their initial game of the season.

Having more experienced and better balanced teams, Missions won both games. Jefferson's twenties played a very close game against Mission. Jefferson had the lead at the end of the third quarter, and in the fourth the score was tied, 37 to 37. Jefferson tens lost, 13 to 27.

High point man for the twenties was Eugene Doyle, who made 23 points, with Carter Callan running second, making 10 points. Richard Horkey was high point man for the tens.

Playing their second game with more spark, the Jefferson lightweight basketball teams defeated Aptos Junior High School, Friday of last week, the tens winning 16 to 12 and the twenties 42 to 23. The game was close until the fourth quarter, when the Jefferson twenties started hitting the hoop from all angles. Gene Doyle, acting as captain for the first time, rang up 16 points to again lead all scores. Carter Callan stayed in form and hit the hoop for 10 points. For the tens Captain Barghine scored 6 points and led his team to a close victory.

DALY CITY TO OPEN PLAY AT HOME GROUNDS

Will Need Support Of Fans At Games In Winter League Schedule

Next Sunday will see the opening game of our rejuvenated Daly City baseball club in the Recreation A Winter League, which begins its season on that date.

Manager Eddie White, with the cooperation of Paul Laufenberg and other local merchants, has succeeded in assembling a team of high class diamond performers and the fans are expecting great things from them in the coming league fracas.

The first game of the season will be played next Sunday at 2 p. m.

There will be nine league games played, all to take place at the Jefferson Union High School grounds here.

The following teams will oppose the Daly City club on the home diamond: On October 3, Municipal Railroad; October 10, Eagles No. 61; October 17, Twenty-fourth Street Boosters; October 24, Park Side Merchants; October 31, Noe Valley Merchants; November 7, Seals Stadium Cafe; November 14, Nangano Draying; November 21, Albertozzi Garage; November 28, Portrero Cubs.

There will be three prizes to be awarded to the three teams winning the most games in the league schedule this winter.

It is to be hoped the attendance at the games will continue good, as our Daly City team will need plenty of support from the rooting section to help them to "bring home the bacon" in the Winter League season.

The entire team personnel is composed of Daly City boys, the whole infield being graduates of Jefferson Union High School.

Harry Krohn, the regular matcher, should add must strength to the team behind the bat.

Newspaper Week

"Where's the paper?"

How many times a day is this question asked in your home?

It is an indication that the newspaper is a household necessity, but in a larger sense it is a public institution. As a disseminator of news, particularly in smaller communities, it is without a rival. In its columns are found the day-to-day record of your "home town." Its unique function as the mirror of community life is so widely recognized that the newspaper, to a greater extent than the telephone or radio, is taken for granted. And when your newspaper does not keep its daily or weekly appointment with you, the question is again, "Where's the paper?"

The public is unfamiliar, however, with the responsibilities which lie behind the publication of a newspaper. First of all, there is the responsibility of printing the news fully and impartially with as high a degree of accuracy as is humanly possible. The chance of error is so tremendous that every issue of a newspaper represents a long succession of minor miracles.

The newspaper has a greater responsibility, however, in keeping its readers informed with respect to the functioning of their various governmental agencies. It is in this sphere of its activities that the newspaper renders its greatest service to the community in which it is published. Democracy succeeds in proportion to the degree to which its citizens are enlightened on the conduct of its political units and the acts of its public officials. As long as the press is free to inform and to criticize, there remains more than a hope that American democracy will continue to point the way to a better social order.

From the days of Benjamin Franklin, American newspapers have not lost sight of their responsibilities to the welfare of their communities, states and nations. No group is more keenly aware of the shortcomings of the press than newspaper workers themselves, but instances of downright dishonesty and betrayal of the public interest are extremely rare in the history of American journalism.

Continue to take your newspaper for granted; you can pay it no greater compliment. Disagree with its editorial or news policies if you wish; no newspaper writer lays claim to a monopoly on truth. Criticize its errors of fact, but do not overlook the circumstances under which a newspaper is published and the continuous effort put forth in the interest of accuracy.

Above all, recognize the responsibility which the newspaper cannot escape if it is to play its proper part in the functioning of a democracy. Newspaper Week is being observed to bring to the attention of the public some of the things beside type and ink which go into the making of a newspaper.

The local newspaper is your institution. Give it a helping hand whenever you can.

Deceased was a member of Belmont Post No. 3771, American Legion. He conducted a restaurant in Belmont prior to his illness.

Interment was in the National Cemetery at the Presidio.

ENEMIES OF PRESIDENT LOSE SENSE OF REASON

By J. W. MARCHBANK
Pioneer in Frontier Mining Work

The word has gone out that the best way to besmirch the President is to charge him with aspiring to become a dictator. The charge is utterly foolish, of course, but it shows the desperation of the reactionaries. They note that the chief executive is the idol of the rank and file and that rankles in their illiberal breasts. In their hysterical efforts to discredit the President they misinterpret everything he says.

In a recent editorial the New York Herald Tribune, which has been slinging mud at the nation's ruler for a long time, said:

"Mr. Roosevelt's policies are unchanged; but, then, no one who has followed either Mr. Roosevelt or the progress of the New Deal has supposed that they would be changed. There is no surprise in being told that the President still conceives of government as a great engine of economic 'direction' which should make itself directly responsible for producing a 'far higher standard of living,' which is undoubtedly a new ideal, as the President says.

"It is not surprising to learn that the President is still exasperated by the restraints which courts and the constitutional system lay upon his headlong progress toward the realization of this novel but dangerous ideal; or to hear that he is still using the quite baseless threat of dictatorial revolution as his excuse for everything these impediments to a course which itself so directly tends toward DICTATORSHIP."

Planned economy is anathema to reactionaries. When the President talks along that line his opponents turn loose all kinds of illogical outpourings. They will not listen to the suggestion that the times demand a change in order that all the people may have a decent standard of living. They cling to the old law of the jungle under the rule of which they happened to be on top.

The things that the people are called upon to oppose by the reactionaries are a reinterpretation of the constitution legislation on wages, hours, farm income, unfair business practices, and the development of a kind of democracy that gives the masses a chance for the best in life through governmental action.

We fail to see anything unconstitutional or un-American in those objectives. We are definitely on the side of the President in the attempt to carry them out.

Reactionary papers are filled with such wild explosions as the following:

"For nearly five years we have been moving steadily in the direction of a totalitarian state. For nearly five years the New Deal has been steadily gaining more and more control over the life of the individual. In less than five years the fundamental conception of the function of our government has changed. The people have been taught to look to the government to cure every ill, to regulate every phase of American life.

"In less than five years a government has been built up based on hatred, fear, intolerance and coercion. These are the weapons of the dictator: hatred and fear of those whom the people are told are their enemies; fear of dire results, if not actual punishment, if they do not obey; intolerance of all those who dare oppose, and coercion in enforcing the will of the individual or group in power upon the people.

"America must awake while there is still any semblance of our form of government left, for upon this depends the future of our democracy."

That is a sample of the hundreds of wails going up from members of the privileged class or its boughten mouthpieces.

Harold J. Laski pointed out not so long ago that our newspapers are a reflection of our social system and that there will be no vital change in them until there is also a vital change in the other. The present-day newspaper is a part of a "big business" world. That President Roosevelt is working for much needed changes in our social system is gall and wormwood to the "big business" group, hence to the majority of newspapers.

Bible selections will include the following passage from Matthew 7: 18-20: "A good tree cannot bring forth evil fruit, neither can a corrupt tree bring forth good fruit. REFRIGERATOR ROLLS AND VARIATIONS

1 cup shortening
1 cup sugar
1½ teaspoons salt
1 cup boiling water
2 eggs, beaten
2 cakes compressed yeast
1 cup cold water
6 cups unsifted flour

Pour boiling water over shortening, sugar and salt. Blend and cool. Add eggs. Let yeast stand in cold water for 5 minutes, then stir and add to mixture. Add flour. Blend well, cover and place in refrigerator for at least 4 hours. Dough must be in large mixing bowl, as it rises slightly in the refrigerator. It will keep a week to ten days and may be used as needed.

About 3 hours before using rolls work into desired shapes, using enough extra flour to make them easy to handle; then place in greased pans and allow them to rise in room of ordinary temperature for about 2 hours or more until they are double original size. Bake in hot oven (425 degrees) for 12 to 15 minutes. If harder crust is desired, bake in moderate oven (350-375 degrees) 20 minutes. Brush rolls with milk or egg white before baking if a sleek crust is wanted or rub with melted butter after baking if buttery look and taste are preferred.

This is a basic recipe. From this the following variations may be made:

Bread Sticks

With the hands, form long, very thin sticks. Let rise and bake in the usual manner. These are good with salads or soups.

Pecan Rolls

Butter, molasses, corn syrup or honey, pecans, cinnamon.

Roll out a sheet of dough. Dot generously with pecans and butter. Sprinkle with cinnamon and roll. Cut off slices and place close together on a pan with a half inch of molasses, corn syrup or honey.

Cocktail Rolls

Chutney, anchovy paste, mustard or cheese.

Roll out a sheet of dough and spread with any of the above ingredients. Roll whole mass like jelly roll. Cut off inch-thick slices, and place them touching each other on a greased pan. Let rise and bake in usual way.

Whole Wheat Rolls

Substitute 3 cups whole wheat flour for white flour.

Fruit Rolls

Two cups ground raisins, figs, currants, dates, nuts or any of these in combination added to plain white, whole wheat make delicious rolls.

Cheese Rolls

Add 2 cups grated cheese to flour or work in a part of it with a part of the dough if the whole batch is not to be flavored with the cheese.

Toasted Oats

Toast ordinary rolled oats in oven until brown and add to basic dough.

Grape Nuts

Add 2 cups grape nuts to basic recipe.

60 Pound Bulldog Is Jaysee Mascot

News briefs from San Mateo Junior College indicate that the student body now has a 60-pound English bulldog, Goldstone Draftsman, as official mascot for the Jaysee athletic teams.

A large number of students attended the recent San Mateo Jaysee Nite at the Mark Hopkins and danced to Griff William's orchestra.

The sophomores won the annual fall brawl from the freshman class. Jousting, sack and tire races and a one-hundred basketball game were included on the program.

Eighty-eight Jaysee students earned membership in the college honor society for this semester by reason of good grades during the last spring term.

San Mateo Jaysee and San Francisco Jaysee faculty men held a picnic at Oak Cove Park, San Mateo, Wednesday of this week. The faculties plan to make the affair an annual one.

Puppets To Stage Famous Old Tale

Beginning Saturday of this week, the San Francisco Federal Theater marionette unit will present a series of marionette performances on Saturday afternoons on the stage of the Alcazar Theater.

The Saturday afternoon schedule is arranged up to the first of the year. Other plays to be presented will be "Rip Van Winkle" and Shakespeare's "Twelfth Night."

OBSERVATION OF VARIOUS THINGS IN OUR CAPITAL

Roosevelt Administration's Success On Labor Front Reviewed In Detail

(By Hart Goodrich)

The twelve months between the 1936 Labor Day and the 1937 Labor Day have been packed with developments of crucial interest to United States workers.

Two stand out:

1. Supreme Court approval of the Wagner Labor Act.

2. The bitter struggle between the American Federation of Labor and the C. I. O.

Both of these spurred union labor to huge membership drives. Unions now claim almost twice as many members as a year ago. A. F. of L. puts its membership at 3,200,000; C. I. O. at more than 3,000,000.

The newspapers seen full of labor conflicts, but few papers print the number of disputes which have been settled by the National Labor Relations Board before they have reached strike proportions. Since April 12, when the National Labor Relations Act was declared constitutional, regional boards have received 2811 cases, as compared with 2425 cases filed in the previous 17 months of the board's existence.

There is a general misconception on the part of some about the power of the government to intervene in labor disputes. The board cannot dictate settlement. That is not possible in a democracy. It can only suggest. There are individuals and groups in all classes of society who are less amenable to arbitration than others, and the board connot expect not to come into contact with such cases in the industrial field. But it is definitely encouraging to see the growth of a real capacity to deal sensibly, intelligently and practically with labor disputes, on the part of those who represent employers and those who represent labor.

Strikes should only be judged for their importance by the numbers of workmen affected and the duration of the strike. Just after the war we suffered from long drawn out strikes lasting as long as six or eight months. We have had only one "long" strike since 1933, and that was for no more than three months—the maritime strike on the Pacific Coast.

In 1936 only 788,648 workers were involved in 2172 strikes, whereas in 1919, 4,160,348 workers were involved in 3630 labor disputes.

Not only in the field of labor disputes has the Administration's Department of Labor accomplished a great deal. It has been influential in the passage of the following state labor laws:

1. In 9 states, minimum wages; (2) in 13 states, shorter hours; (3) in 3 states, collection of wages; (4) in 29 states, regulation of prison-made goods; (5) in 18 states, curb on the issuance of injunctions; (6) in 3 states, regulation and abolition of home work; (7) in 5 states, regulation of fee-charging employment agencies; (8) in 16 states, protection against accidents and industrial disease; (9) in 7 states, establishment of 16-year minimum for the employment of boys and girls; (10) in 42 states, maintenance of state employment services in co-operation with the United States Employment Service.

WORTHY PRAISE BEING BESTOWED ON OLD AUTHOR

Cycle Of Nine Plays To Be Presented Under Title, "Tonight At Eight-Thirty"

To speak of Noel Coward as one of the modern theater's most amazing master craftsmen is hardly news at this late date.

But it is fitting and proper, agree the New York and London critics, to pin new adjectives of praise to this brilliant and versatile Englishman's latest works, as revealed in his newest hit, the cycle of nine short plays, to which he was given the inclusive title of "Tonight at 8:30."

The Curran Theater in San Francisco brings this entire cycle of "Tonight at 8:30" plays with the distinguished stage stars, Estelle Winwood, Helen Chandler, Bramwell Fletcher and Mary Astor as guest artists in the leading roles, for a limited engagement of three weeks, beginning Monday vening, October 4.

For the San Francsco engagement, a set of three plays, each set entirely different, will be presented during the three weeks' engagement. In other words, thc audience must attend the theater three times during the limited engagement, in order to see the complete series of nine plays in "Tonight at 8:30."

These plays, with extraordinary variety, range from comedy and farce, through romance and satire, to actual musical comedy with Mr. Coward's latest musical hits, including such currently popular new songs as "Hearts and Flowers," and "Princes and Princesses" from the "Family Album" play. The orchestra plays "You Were There" and "Then," two delightful songs from the playlet "Shadow Play" and then there are the hilarious musical-hall songs from "Red Peppers."

"Red Peppers," in fact, is regarded as one of the climaxes of the entire series. The hero and heroine of this brilliant comedy, played by Bramwell Fletcher and Helen Chandler, portray an obscure song and dance duo doing its antique turn in an English provincial music hall. There is joyous fooling to be found in this skit as the two go through their antics.

The entire cycle of nine short plays —all different—will be played in three series. For the week of October 4, every night and Wednesday and Saturday matinees, "Hands Across the Sea," "Still Life," and "Family Album." For the second series, beginning the week of October 11, "Ways and Means," "Fumed Oak," and "Shadow Play." For the third and final series, beginning the week of October 18, "We Were Dancing," "The Astonished Heart" and "Red Peppers."

WPA PROGRAM FORMS CLASSES FOR GROWN-UPS

Chemistry, English Courses Are Being Organized In San Francisco Now

Two new educational courses which are free to the adult public are being established this week by the WPA Education Program of the State Department of Education.

For persons wanting knowledge of the science which treats of the properties of elementary and compound substances and the laws which govern their molecular and atomic relations, a class in organic chemistry has been organized. This course is especially designed for employes of industrial plants, college students and persons wanting a knowledge of the substance of things. Instructions are given Monday, Tuesday and Friday evenings at 2200 Pine street by Francis Ballard. A well equipped laboratory is available for experiments.

For persons wishing to learn expressive English, a class in Latin has been opened at 1050 Post street with instruction given by Maud Laders, formerly of the Missouri State University and the George Peabody College of Teachers, each Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday evenings. This course in Latin includes the correlative subjects of English derivatives of French and Greek, giving the foundation needed for speaking correct expressive English.

Detailed information of these classes can be obtained from the office of the program, 216 Market street, Douglas 7119.

number and value, with a result that many of the country's outstanding stables, handicap horses and jockeys have been attracted.

Among the outstanding thoroughbreds to be seen in action at Bay Meadows are Seabiscuit, the San Francisco owned champion; Sahri II, the sensation from Chile that recently won the $15,000 Gold Cup race at Chicago; Special Agent, Indian Broom, Sobriety, Pashas, The Fighter, Watersplash, Grand Manitou, Albubble, King Saxon, Exotude, Sallys Booter, Don Roberto, Brown Jade and possibly Top Row and Time Supply.

The three leading jockeys of America will be here in the persons of Johnny Adams, W. L. Johnson and Alan Gray, who are so closely bunched that their riding during the Bay Meadows season likely will decide the 1937 jockey title.

Seventeen major stake events are scheduled, topped by the $10,000 World's Fair handicap. One feature being planned is a stake exclusively for foreign bred horses, as thoroughbreds will be here from Argentine, Chile, England, France, Canada, Germany, Australia and Hawaii. A unique attraction to be carded is a race exclusive for gray horses. Another special event will bring together the leading horses of the west, those that have remained on the coast all summer, for the Pacific coast championship.

Hollywood's movie colony will be well represented. Already on the grounds are the powerful stables of Joe E. Brown, Bing Crosby and Director William LeBaron.

Long Police Chase Nets Stolen Auto

While patrolling on Mission street near the county line, about 4 o'clock Sunday morning, the attention of Sergeant Sunderland and Officer Dalton was attracted by a car travelling at an excessive rate of speed. The officers gave chase down Mission street through the Castle tract, over the railroad tracks to Market and Mission streets in Colma, and then back up to Mission and Wilson streets, where the driver, John Joe Ferrari of 1425 Grant avenue, was brought to a halt. On examination of the license plates it was learned the car was a stolen one, the license number having been broadcast over the San Francisco Police Department broadcasting system.

Ferrari was jailed, and about 4:30 that morning he was released to the custody of officers from Ingleside station.

The car was placed in a Daly City garage. At 11 o'clock the same day it was released to the legal owner, who had been notified by the police of its recovery.

HUMAN NATURE DRAMA THEME OF NEW PLAY

House Packed As Pulitzer Prize Winner Receives First Night Presentation

"Beyond The Horizon," Pulitzer Prize play by Eugene O'Neill, which opened at the Alcazar Tuesday night of this week, will probably earn for the Federal Theater Project a new high in the estimation of the San Francisco theater going public. Playing for the first time since it was written, seventeen years ago, at popular prices, the first night house was packed to the rafters, all seats having been taken up several days in advance of the opening.

"Beyond The Horizon" is the play that brought its author into international prominence as a playwright and it seems destined to keep him there as it has been, and is still being, produced in practically every civilized country in the world.

The San Francisco Theater Project's staging was enthusiastically received. There are only ten characters in the play, with three leading roles. The leads are played by Leon Forbes, Grace Cooper and Crawford Perks. They are well handled throughout. Others in the cast are Rupert Drum, Ruth Saville, Adna Ellsmere, Daniel Pennell, J. Raymond Northcutt, little Arlene Rossi, an up-and-coming actress of four years of age, and David Cole—a cast made up, by the way, of some of the most seasoned talent of the 115 on the Theater Project.

The play itself shows a sympathetic comprehension of elemental human nature and is a genuine, poignant domestic drama centering about the love and lives of the three main characters. As done by the Theater Project actors it fulfills in every detail the earlier prophesy that it would remain indefinitely a grand representative of the best purpose of the theater. There is not a dull moment in it.

CHANGE IN FORM KEEPS SPECULATORS ON JUMP

By J. W. MARCHBANK

An Eastern commentator remarked when the horses recently went over to Belmont Park from Aqueduct that he hoped some better ones would be saddled. Although he is getting his hope fulfilled, probably he is not having such an easy time guessing the winners. For example the other day Unfailing, a comparatively late comer to the races, won the historic Lawrence Realization at 20 to 1 in a field of five.

At about this time last year when Privileged, Matey and others in the Realization were well known for their prowess in features for two year olds, Unfailing had not been in a contest. As there are a number of allowances in the race Unfailing got in at 112. Privileged carried 119 and Matey 126. Although Privileged was second, Matey was unable to finish in the money. Simply a case where every pound counts, especially at the trying distance of one mile and five furlongs.

Imported Prince Charlie's great son, Salvator, won the first Realization (in those early days the name "Lawrence" had been tacked on). That was as long ago as 1889 and the stakes was run at Sheepshead Bay. The class of Salvator was shown by the fact he toted 122 pounds, while Tenny, a whale of a horse, too, had 109 on his back. Tenny was second.

Man o'War frightened every thing out of the three year old race in his season with the exception of Hoodwink. It was only an exercise gallop for the sire of the present champion, War Admiral.

The Belmont Park management must be congratulated on maintaining the distance of the Realization at one mile and five furlongs in this age of abbreviated contests. It was shaved down to one mile and four furlongs for a couple years, but restored to the original distance after that short lapse. Sprints are all right in their way, but we must not simply breed sprinters. Stayers are the only kind of thoroughbreds that will keep the game going on a high plane.

INDIANS DROP BERKELEY BOUT

Jefferson Braves Scalped By Strong Opponents In One-sided Football Game

Friday afternoon of last week, the Jefferson Indians ended their practice season by meeting Berkeley, which is scouted as being one of the strongest teams in the state.

Berkeley, having the advantage of playing on their own gridiron and backed up by a magnificent turnout of their student body, marched through the Jefferson line with comparative ease to score twice in the first half, placing Berkeley in the lead with a score of 14-0.

Berkeley, again attempting to score, tried a long pass which was intercepted by the Jefferson halfback, Roy Wilson, who returned it 35 yards before he was forced out of bounds by the last man between him and the goal.

Wilson, injured on this play, was replaced by Simpson, who came into the game full of spirit, took the ball on an end run and tore off another 30 yards to bring the Indians up to a scoring position. Here they tried passing, which failed to click, and they lost the ball on an intercepted pass.

Berkeley, again in possession of the pigskin, started their march up the field to the Jefferson goal, scoring in the final minutes of the game. The final score was 21-0.

Progress Inspires Health Campaigners

NOBODY SEEMS TO BE 'WISED UP' ON ORDINANCES

Great Deal Of Confusion Now Exists Regording Building And Plumbing Laws

ingless. Furthermore, the penalty for violations is placed at such a low figure as to be absolutely ridiculous.

On examination of the Plumbing Ordinance, so-called, one finds that many of the provisions of the various sections are duplications in language which defy intelligent deciphering as to their real meaning.

An amendment to this Plumbing Ordinance, adopted on January 13, 1936, purports to change the provisions of Section 14 thereof. However, on examination, it seems to this writer that the only change actually made is in the language used, as the meaning is absolutely the same as before the amendment was adopted.

In the purported amendment this ridiculous phrase appears: "All fees hereinbefore mentioned shall be paid at the time the request for inspection is made by the plumber."

Again: "Fee for plumbing permit on new plumbing work Five ($5.00) Dollars."

Here is the elucidating language of a preceding section of the ordinance:

"Section 7. Permit. The installation of, and the alteration of or change in the plumbing work or fixtures in any old or new building or buildings, shall not be done, until application shall have been made to the Plumbing Inspector and a permit issued as provided elsewhere in this ordinance."

Which of these enlightening sections of this wonderfully explicit ordinance is one to believe?

Imagine a plumber requesting an inspection of work before the same has been accomplished! Yet he is expressly forbidden from proceeding with any plumbing work until an application has been made and a permit to do the work has been issued. Yet, by another section of the same ordinance, he is required to pay the fee for the permit after the work has been completed—or "at the time request for inspection is made by the plumber." Strange requirements, indeed!

In order to obviate these confusing circumstances in future, it would see mto any casual observer that it is obvious that something should be done at once to clear up these differences so that our ordinances may be administered in the manner by the framers intended in the interests of the benefit and welfare of Daly City citizens and taxpayers.

It should be understood that the City Council as at present constituted is not responsible for this drawing of these ordinances, as they were framed and adopted previous to the time of the members of this council assuming office. Most of the ordinances have been operative for a long period of years.

Newspaper Week—October 4 To 10

By GEORGE F. MORELL
President California Newspaper Publishers Association

By its very nature the newspaper does more to promote and publicize enterprise, individuals, and institutions, both public and private, than any other medium. Even competing media such as radio and moving pictures receive generous attention in its columns.

In the daily rush of gathering and presenting the facts of the surrounding world, the newspaper too often takes itself for granted. It tells about everything except itself. In place of the true story which the newspaper might tell of itself a vast amount of misinformation about newspapers has been put out by other media.

To paint the true picture, a week is set aside each year for the newspapers of California to tell their own story. The interesting items which can be presented are many. Among them is the fact that the depression did not bring failure to a single California newspaper! What other institution can show a comparable record? What better proof could there be of the place in the community which the newspaper fills or of the stability of the newspaper as an institution.

Publishers are proud, too, of the fact that in spite of the carefully planned and powerfully executed drives for control of the press during recent unsettled years, the American press remains unshackled and is today the only really free press in the world. As such it continues to be the strongest bulwark of the American people against influences attempting to destroy democracy.

Campaign Launched Against Disease

Sanctioned by a conference of the Board of Supervisors and San Mateo County officials, Wednesday morning of this week, the plan of procedure for the first phase of the county's campaign to end tuberculosis is now in effect. The plan calls for a house to house survey for statistics on the extent of the dread malady.

The burden of this work will fall on the public health nurses and related county employes.

One radio stands far out in front—in tuning, reception, tone and value—and you can prove it to yourself in 15 seconds. Just dial the new Grunow TELEDIAL!

Don't take our word that accurate, hair-line radio tuning is now merely a matter of a single careless finger flip.

Dial TELEDIAL yourself and hear the station you select respond instantly in perfect tune.

Don't take our word that it is possible to tune in 15 stations in 15 seconds.

Dial it yourself. You'll probably do it in 12 seconds. Most people do.

And don't take our word that you can get ALL-WORLD, All-Wave reception (on the conventional dial) almost as easily as you get local stations, and a lot easier and better than your neighbors get foreign stations on much more expensive sets.

Or that the new Grunow (patented) "Violin-Shaped" cabinet produces radio's most musical tone.

And, because Wm. C. Grunow has introduced into radio manufacture the principle of concentrated mass production, the quality in this glorious radio is noticeably superior to other radios that cost $30, $40 and $50 more.
